

About Housing Law in South Dakota

Many tenants do not know their rights when dealing with landlords or housing court action. Many have to proceed without legal representation during eviction proceedings or administrative hearings. ERLS can provide assistance in housing matters whether it's legal representation or just answering basic questions on housing matters.

- Prevention of homelessness
- Eviction actions
- Secure and protect tenants' rights to public and subsidized housing
- Loss of housing benefits
- Denying public and subsidized housing
- Terminating public and subsidized housing

Preference given to disabled persons and children at risk of homelessness. Regardless of the above, if you are a low-income person with a different housing law problem contact ERLS to see if we can help.
